EXPERT UNDER FIRE

Lively Tilt Over Figures Before Coal Strike Commission.

MANY INACCURACIES NOTED

Mr. Darrow's Cross-Examination of Statistician Was So Severe That Chairman Gray Interfered in Behalf of the Witness.

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—Several interesting incidents occurred during yesterday's sessions of the anthracite coal strike commission. The morning session was enlivened by the rigid cross-examination of H. D. Newcomb, a statistician for the Reading Company, by Attorney Darrow, for the miners, and the spirited passages between the lawyer and the witness. Several times Chairman Gray felt impelled to interfere on behalf of the witness, admonishing counsel to be less severe in his criticism of Mr. Newcomb's statements and figures. The witness, during the course of his examination, said he appeared to be giving a kindergarten lesson, and the miners' attorney said: "To whom: the commission?" "No, to you," replied the witness. "I doubt if you are even qualified to do that," was the lawyer's response. Mr. Newcomb had prepared 37 tables of figures showing various rates of wages in industries throughout the country. His averages and conclusions were sharply questioned, and in one case the witness admitted his schedule was incorrect. Another time the expert admitted the figures he had given the commission did not apply to Pennsylvania.

The tables as prepared showed a death rate of 1.5 to 10 per cent of miners and quarrymen over 65 years of age. "You have found that mining is the most healthful occupation of all labor," asked Mr. Darrow. "The death rate is lower in that class according to United States figures." "Ah, you mean the figures lie, and not you?" "You are insolent, Mr. Darrow. You have no right to say such a thing to me." "Yes; you have gone far beyond the line, Mr. Darrow," said Judge Gray. "You think your figures as presented are fair, careful, and honest?" continued the miners' lawyer. "Yes."

"This isn't fair cross-examination," interjected Mr. Wolverson.

Mr. Darrow continued: "What do your figures show in the death rate for railroad men?"

"10.8 per thousand."

"What for miners?"

"23.5."

"Then it seems it's more dangerous to be a clergyman than to be a brakeman!"

"No. In the professions such as ministers the death rate is high because ministers, as a rule, are men well advanced in years. They don't become ministers as a rule, until they are 30 years of age. For this reason there are many deaths from old age. In the field of labor a large percentage of the workers are young men. That makes the difference."

The remainder of Newcomb's occupancy of the witness stand was a series of tilts between Attorney Darrow and the statistician.

The comparative statements were riddled under the lawyer's merciless fire, and finally Newcomb admitted that a compilation presented by the miners' counsel was more nearly correct than those offered by himself. One record prepared by witness included among the necessities of a miner's life a miscellaneous assortment of commodities ranging from copper and iron ingots to drugs.

"Do the miners consider wood alcohol a necessity?" asked Bishop Spalding.

"As much so as sulphuric acid and brimstone, I imagine," suggested Commissioner Clark, all three of the articles named having been quoted among the "necessities" and included in the tables showing cost of living.

"If you think there are any tables you can produce to strengthen your testimony," said Mr. Darrow, "just present them."

"I think you have strengthened my testimony enough," retorted Newcomb, as he left the stand.

At the afternoon session counsel for the operators intimated that the other side was endeavoring to break its agreement with the operators regarding the basis of percentage in arriving at a definite conclusion as to the earnings of contract miners. Numerous witnesses have testified that the operators' statements presented to the commission show only the gross earnings of the contract miners and fail to account for the division of the money with the helpers. Counsel for the companies admitted that the books accounted for the wages paid to the contract miners only, as the helpers were paid by the miners. This fact having been previously stated to the commission and an agreement having been reached by both sides as to the manner of making deductions in order to learn as nearly as possible the actual earnings of the miners, the operators' counsel characterized as farcical the calling of so many witnesses to attack the companies' figures.

A score of witnesses, miners employed by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, the Pennsylvania Coal company, the Hillside Coal and Iron company, and the Temple Iron company were examined concerning the wage statements of the corporations. In every case they claimed to have actually received considerably less than was credited to them. They were unanimous in demanding payment by weight.

Manilla Free From Cholera.

Manilla, Feb. 5.—The United States quarantine officials have declared Manilla to be free from cholera, thus ending the quarantine which has lasted nearly a year. Though cholera has disappeared from Manilla, it is still epidemic in parts of the islands. The total of the reported cases since the outbreak is 120,363, with 22,955 deaths. The actual number is probably 20 per cent more.

The international convention of the Epworth League will be held at Detroit, Mich., July 16-19.

Will Go to Honduras.

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—The warships in commission in this harbor will be on their way to Annapolis, a port on the Pacific coast of Honduras, early next week. The New York, Boston and Ranger are now in the bay ready to start on short notice.

In view of the orders, Admiral Glass yesterday relieved Admiral Casey in the command of the Pacific fleet. It had been arranged that the flags of the admirals should be changed on February 10, but the hurry orders to the fleet to get into southern waters prompted the change being made in the commanding officers in advance of the arranged time.

Big Blaze at Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City, Feb. 5.—Fire that started in the Lion store, dealers in general merchandise, here yesterday caused the loss of $250,000. Insurance caused one-third of loss. The entire stock and building of the Lion store was consumed, entailing a loss of more than $175,000. Another fire in a frame building on Broadway at the same time caused additional loss. Fire apparatus was sent in by El Reno and Guthrie.

Killed Himself in a Hotel.

New York, Feb. 5.—A man supposed to be G. Duckstein, an insurance agent, of 219 South Sixth street, Philadelphia, committed suicide last night by shooting himself in the head with a revolver in a hotel in Pearl street a few minutes after he had engaged a room. His only effects were a few papers of no value and some blank insurance forms.

Drank Disinfecting Solution.

Norwich, Conn., Feb. 5.—Miss Eleanor C. Sloan, aged 27 years, accidentally drank a quantity of disinfecting solution containing carbolic acid, and died shortly afterwards. She had intended to take a dose of bromide for a headache. Miss Sloan was a brilliant pianist and prominent in local society. The body will be removed to Philadelphia, where the family formerly lived.

Merger Case Called.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 5.—The Federal suit against the merger railway was called by Judge Lockman yesterday to be set for hearing. Judge George B. Young, chief counsel for the merger, in this case, moved to pass the case until counsel agree on a date for hearing. The papers in the case are not ready and the counsel are busy taking the defendant's testimony in the state case. The counsel agreed that the case should be called about April 1. The court ordered the case to be placed on the docket for hearing at the present term some time after the date mentioned by the attorneys.

Wants $2,300,000 Damages.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 5.—A suit for $2,300,000 damages has been filed in the district court by Elizabeth B. Tabor against James W. Newell, Warren F. Page and the Ransom Leasing Company, growing out of the sale in 1899 of the Matchless mine near Leadville, which belonged to the Tabor Mines and Milling Company. The mine was sold for something like $13,000 to satisfy judgment which the defendants are said to have held against the Tabor Company. Fraud is alleged.

Vessel Swallowed Up at Sea.

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—The steamer Alameda, which arrived here yesterday from Honolulu, reports having seen during a storm on the night of January 30 the distress signal of a square rigger. In less than 10 minutes the square rigger had disappeared, and it is believed it must have been swallowed up in the sea. It is thought here that the disabled vessel may have been the Florence, an American vessel now out 65 days from Tacoma for Honolulu.

Burglar in Walcott-Astoria.

New York, Feb. 5.—A well-dressed young man, who described himself as Herman Cordes, of 2031 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, was arrested last night while prowling about the upper corridor of the Waldorf-Astoria and apparently trying the doors of rooms. On being searched a bottle of chloroform, two screw drivers, a small hammer and other tools were found on him. A telegram was sent to the chief of police of Philadelphia, asking that a search be made of the prisoner's room at the Chestnut street address.

Work of Masked Thugs.

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 5.—While Mrs. Schweitzer, an aged woman, was alone in her home at Dumas, Pa., masked men tied her hands and feet, then stifled her cries with pillows and took the woman out of the house, and then ransacked the house, securing considerable booty. When the other members of the family returned home they found the woman nearly suffocated and almost frozen.

French Warship Founders.

Paris, Feb. 5.—The French torpedo boat destroyer Espagnole has foundered in 35 fathoms of water off Cape Lardier, about 35 miles east of Toulon. Another destroyer has gone ashore at the same point.
